

Gustavo A Moviglia MD, PhD

Associate Professor at Wake Forest Institute for Regenerative Medicine-Wake Forest University- North Carolina-U.S.

Founder Member of IANAR .

Former President of IANAR.

Former Vice-President for Central in South America of the ISCT.

Former Director of CIITT of Maimonides University Cava, Argentina.

Former Professor of Immunology and Cell Therapy.

Former President of the Regina Matter Foundation, Argentina

After his degree in Medicine in 1978 he worked seven years for the National Counsel of Research in Argentina as Researcher in Cell Therapy, Embryology and Histology. In 1986 he was Director of the Laboratory of Reproduction and Sterility in Atlanta GA, starting his career in Medical in Translation Medicine in Cell Therapy for Cancer, autoimmune disease and Regenerative Medicine. In 2002 He developed a technology for the treatment of Complete and Chronic Spinal Cord Injury Patients. Based on this successful treatment he developed many different Regenerative Strategies for Neural, Eyes, and Orthopedic indication.

